Since voters passed the 2006 Bond Program, we have added more than 5,200 new students, opened three elementary schools and one middle school, and performed countless upgrades at existing campuses and facilities.

With a district of this size that continues to grow and with many facilities needing upgrades and facelifts, it has taken time to complete all Bond 2006 projects. Voters approved more than $267 million in bonds and the district has $26.5 million remaining in projects to complete. It is our goal to complete 2006 projects by the end of 2010. Campuses with incomplete 2006 projects that are tied to 2008 Bond projects might not have all projects complete by the end of 2010. Campuses with linked bond projects are being informed of the changes in the completion timeline as it is best to tie these projects together for cost saving and efficiency purposes.

In order to keep the tax rate at the promised amount of $0.34 for debt service we were required to prioritize projects and pace out our bond sales. District officials were required to space out projects and prioritize the projects by immediate need.

Due to the constant growth and severe overcrowding issues we faced at several campuses around the district, building the new schools was paramount to continue providing the quality of education we pride ourselves on here at Round Rock ISD.

We have numerous existing campuses scheduled for smaller projects and upgrades, and we have had questions from parents and staff asking when these projects will be addressed. I want to remind everyone that the 2006 Bond Program was laid out as a four-year plan and we are adhering to that timeline. We are working tirelessly to ensure that all campuses receive the needed upgrades while maintaining the district's tax rate commitment to voters.

Thank you to all our campuses and parents as they bear with us while we work to complete all projects to ensure that all students will learn... whatever it takes!
